PIKE COAL FIELD IS SOUGHT BY FORD

Auto Magnate Sinks to Purchase New Lands as Elkhorn Deal Hangs Fire—4,000 Acres Affected.

New York, Dec. 23.—Henry Ford is negotiating for the purchase of the coal lands, mining plants, and equipment of the Pond Creek Coal Company in Pike County, Kentucky, it was announced in New York Friday by T. B. Davis, president of the coal concern. Negotiations will be completed before the end of the year, he said.

Mr. Davis issued a statement concerning the negotiations "in view of the rumors that have been current in the press, and in order that his own stockholders might be correctly informed as to what was transpiring." Negotiations with representatives of the Ford interests have been going on for several days, he said. "All of the Pond Creek Company's land and equipment in Pike county are concerned in the pending transaction. The Pond Creek Coal Company is owned mainly by residents of Boston, who purchased the lands and opened up the mines about fifteen years ago. The company operates eight mines and has a daily output of approximately 10,000 tons. Six thousand acres are owned by the company, it is said.

KENTUCKY WOMAN KILLS HER HUSBAND.

Harlan, Ky., Dec. 22.—Mrs. Walter Wheeler shot and instantly killed her husband at their home in Coxton, this county, early today, following a quarrel in which it was said Wheeler told his wife that he did not love her any more.
Mrs. Wheeler was brought to Harlan in a state of nervous collapse.
Preliminary hearing has not been set.

Miss Minnie Coughlin, of Louisville, arrived Friday evening to spend the holidays with relatives in the county.

CHRISTMAS PARTY ALL ARRANGED FOR SUNDAY AFTERNOON

Poor Children of Maysville and Vicinity To Be Given Annual Christmas Treat Sunday Afternoon at the Washington Theater.

Committees in charge of the annual Christmas Party given by the business men of Maysville to the poor boys and girls of the community, announce that everything is in readiness for the greatest treat yet given. For several years it has been the custom of the big-hearted business men of Maysville and its suburbs is furnished with toys, candies and nuts and fruits at Christmas time. In the past these parties have been held at the court house and the big circuit court room has been filled with children so that the grown-ups have had little opportunity to see the joy in the hearts of the kiddies reflected in their face and eyes. This year plans are different.

The distribution of the Christmas things will be made on the stage of the Washington theater Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock. All who desire to see the effect on the children will be admitted to the theater. The children will gather at the Pastime theater and at the Maysville Implement Company. The white children at the Pastime and the colored children at the Implement Company's offices. The children will march in orderly fashion down the alley west of the theater, across the stage and out the alley east of the theater onto the street.

At this party Colonel J. Barbour Russell and the managing committee of the Kentucky Cardinal Band will make their annual distribution of the band fund to the members of the band. There will be a Christmas concert of splendid music and every member of the band will receive his or her share in the fund. It is understood that there will be a very neat check for each musician this year.

It is expected that the Washington will be filled with people to see the Christmas Party and to enjoy the splendid concert by the band. Every one is welcome.

Stop at Traxel's to get a brick of ice cream for your Christmas dinner.

"THE GRAY DAWN."

Of retribution for the criminals and law-breakers whose reign of lawlessness held San Francisco in a grip of terror. Murders were a daily occurrence. The law was ridiculed, justice thwarted. Death lurked in every shadow, and a hundred lamp posts offered mute evidence of the wave of crime which swept the city like a scourge.

Such was the condition of the crime-ridden city when the Vigilantes took the law in their own hands. From a seething cauldron of intrigue and treachery San Francisco became a city of law and order. The lawless were banished. Many paid the penalty with their lives and stern justice became the order of the day. Presented at the Pastime Tuesday.

CHRISTMAS SHOPPERS THROUGH THE CITY.

Maysville was filled to overflowing Saturday with Christmas shoppers who for many reasons were compelled to postpone their Christmas shopping until the last hour. The crowds were handled well on the streets and in the stores. All local merchants enjoyed a splendid business and little disorder was reported.

Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Lewis, Miss Violet and Mr. William Lewis, of New York City, and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Maltby, of Cincinnati, are guests of Mrs. Henry E. Pogue and family of the West End.

Raymond Hirschfeld, University of Cincinnati student, is at home to spend the Christmas week with his parents, Councilman and Mrs. M. R. Hirschfeld of Forest avenue.

Dressed Turkeys, ducks, geese, and chickens; oysters and all kinds of fish, meats and etc. Phone us your Christmas order. SCHWARTZ & HANNAN. Phone 34, 208 Market street. 20D4

Dr. John Cartmell Devino and wife, of Omaha, Nebr., arrived Friday evening to spend the holidays with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Devino, of Market street.

Major and Mrs. John Walsh left Saturday afternoon for Newport where they will spend the Christmas holidays with the families of their daughters.

Cheer Up! Phone 837-W and let McNamara press that suit for Christmas. 21Dec-21

BODY OF SHERIFF FOUND ON RAILS IN PERRY

Pistol of Officer Held Four Empty Shells; Probe Is Under Way.

Hazard, Ky., Dec. 23.—A coroner's jury was impaneled here Friday to begin an investigation of the death of Deputy Sheriff Bob Napier, 40 years old, whose mangled body was found on the railroad track at Walker's Branch, near his home, Friday morning. At least one train had passed over the body.

The officer's pistol had four empty shells in it. There was very little blood about the body, indicating that he was dead when hit by the train. Neighbors, however, scout the theory that Napier was slain and the body placed on the tracks. It is believed that he stepped to rest and fell asleep. He is survived by his widow and several small children.

This makes the fourth officer to meet death in this county since last June, the others being Deputy Sheriff R. J. Crawford, Deputy Sheriff James Holliday and Policeman Holland.

GREEN CHRISTMAS LIKELY.

Present indications, according to Weather Forecaster W. C. Devereaux, are for a green Christmas this year. He says it is too far in advance to make a prediction on the weather Christmas Day, but that it is more likely it will be a "green" than "white" for the reason that most frequently Christmas in the Cincinnati district has been of the green variety.

Examination of records for the last 60 years shows, Mr. Devereaux says, the average of "white" Christmas Days is about one to five. The last snow on Christmas was in 1918.

TYPHOID TOLL INCREASES.

Washington, Dec. 23.—The typhoid death rate increased from 7.8 per 100,000 of population in 1920 to 9 in 1921 in the death registration area, which comprises 34 states and 82 per cent. of the population of the United States, the Census Bureau announced today.

The number of deaths from this cause totaled more than 8,000, only nine states showing lower rates in 1921 than in 1920. Rhode Island, with 2.6 per 100,000, had the lowest rate last year, and South Carolina, with 26.5, the highest.

Mr. Louis Fitch, of Springfield, Ohio, joined his wife here Saturday and will spend the holidays with relatives.

Dr. and Mrs. W. E. Hines left Saturday for Somerset to spend the Christmas season with relatives.

OUR POLIOY:

To support such measures as are unquestionably for the good of as are in favor of the individual interest, or of one section as against another. And likewise to earnestly and consistently oppose all things that are not for the good of the county as a whole.

SANTA HAS HIS GREATEST GIFT

We talked to Santa Claus the other day, asking him what time he had planned to come to our little town, because all the children were much interested to learn. Some of the little ones, we told him, feared he might not come at all—that they might be forgotten. But Santa smiled.

"I will be with you, have no fear," he said, "but just the hour
 I cannot say. If I get lots of help, it may be early, very early, but who knows? When the mince pie is in the oven, when the plum pudding is steaming in the pot, when the big gobbler is crisp and brown and nuts and raisins rest on mother's snowy tablecloth, when sleepy eyes are opened to behold the tree and the laughter of all the children echoes over fields and down the narrow city streets, when tender hearts, just everywhere, are all aglow with the joy of human brotherhood, then will not be a child in all the land that will not know old Santa Claus is around. A little lump will rise in mother's throat and perhaps a tear in dear old dad's eye will tell us that the spirit of the Christ still lives."

This year Santa said he will have a gift for everyone, the greatest gift in all the world. Of course he will leave the toys, the apples and the candy sticks, but the candy will be eaten and one day the tin soldier will be bent. The big gift is to last forever. Santa found it in a manger. We forgot to ask its name, but as we look across the years and view the setting sun, we think that Jesus called it Love, so let us watch for it on Christmas morn and nourish it throughout the years, each day, each moment of our lives.

This is the season when the joy of giving comes home to everyone, when everyone's wondering what to give an' where to give it.
 A million dollars to give away. Think of that. Homes made happy, smiling faces—care lifted from the backs of the weary—old folks
 as well as kiddies changed into joyous humans, their hearts aglow with thankfulness. Blessed is he that giveth—which reminds us, Maybe we'd better start a the startin' point an' get a move on or we won't get the surplus million. Well, if we don't we can still do something for somebody. We can give our time. That's it. We could give quite a lot of it if we didn't throw so much of it away.
 Then maybe the world would be a bit the better because we passed through it.

COLORED CITIZENS.

The Bethel Baptist church and the Scott M. E. church will hold a Christmas union service Christmas morning at Bethel Baptist church 11 o'clock.

When in Doubt Give Furniture

Maybe you'll read this; maybe you won't. It's pretty near Christmas, and most people have already settled the Christmas gift problems. If interested, however, read on, and harken unto this bit of friendly advice.

Buy Knox's Furniture

For any and all occasions, and for every stage of life from the Infant's Chair to the Restful Recliner for the grandparents.
 The largest, the most unusual, the choicest patterns, but always at "you-can-afford-it" prices, are here for you to select from. Come.

Give Them

a Windsor!

It looked for awhile as if we would not get to use this pretty illustration, owing to the manner in which appreciative buyers thinned out our Christmas Windsor stock. However, a belated shipment came in and our stock is again complete. Therefore we say,
 "Give 'Em a Windsor." The gift will be one of lifelong satisfaction and appreciation for the recipient.

COMMENT

The Public Ledger wishes all of its readers and friends the happiest possible Christmas. May old Santa Claus be good to you every one and may the real Christmas spirit fill you.

In order that the members of the Public Ledger force may enjoy Christmas around their own fireside, there will be no edition of this paper on Christmas Day. Folks will be too busy to read newspapers anyway.

Don't forget the Newbie who has served you through all kinds of weather during this Christmas season. We who have been Newsies remember well those good men and women on our routes who during the holiday season did not forget us and we also remember most distinctly that we always saw that their newspaper
 got in out of the weather on bad days, too. It's just human nature and it's practiced in manhood as it is in boy-hood.

At this time of the year we all grown-ups as well as kids, just naturally begin thinking about a Sunday school Christmas treat. When we were kids we tried to take in two or three.
 This year, the superintendents, seem to have kicked the kids' game by having them all on the same night.

Local merchants report that this Christmas season has been more free of shop lifting than for many years. So far not a single arrest has been made and only a few cases have been reported to the officials.

If you want to get into the real spirit of Christmas, don't fail to attend the business men's Christmas party to be given at the Washington theater Sunday afternoon. If one could only get a picture of the expression on the kiddles' faces as they receive their toys and candies and keep it framed over the desk to look at every time things go wrong.

Our Daily Poem

"I CAN'T"
 "I Can't" lacks in nerve; he's too faint
 of heart
 To pitch in like a man and do his part;
 He's none of the spirit that fights and wins;
 He admits he's beaten before he begins
 "I Can't" sees as mountains what bolder eyes
 Recognize as mole hills; ambition dies
 And leaves him complaining in helpless wrath,
 When the first small obstacle blocks
 his path.
 "I Can't" has a notion that, out of spite
 He's being cheated of what's his right.
 The men who succeed by hard work
 and pluck,
 He envies, and sneers at as "Fools for luck!"
 "I Can't" is a loafer, who won't admit
 That is life's the mess he has made
 of it;
 The treasure that's sparkling beneath
 his eye,
 He thinks he can't reach—and won't even try.
 "I Can't" has a feeling the world's in debt
 To him for a living he's failed to get;
 But, given a chance to collect, he'll rant,
 About past failures, and whine, "I can't."
 —CHARLES R. BARRETT.

Ethel Clayton

"If I
Were Queen"

At Opera House
Wednesday,
December 27th

A Dashing American Girl — A Royal Prince — A Queen's Locket — Brave Knights — Regal Ladies — The Chain of Swords — Intriguing Diplomats — Three Kingdoms in Turmoil — And Love Behind a Throne — All Entwined in a Romantic Photodrama of Transcending Beauty.

Back to the Age of Chivalry — Back to the Golden Kingdom of Romance with glorious Ethel Clayton in a superb and stunning romance of mythical empires, "If I Were Queen."

Romance — adventure — intrigue — swordplay — all staged amid the regal splendors of Old World Courts and Castles.

Great nobles — fair ladies — fawning courtiers — swarthy warriors — plotting statesmen — swift couriers — devoted subjects — humble servants — great-hearted soldiers — And a charming American girl in the greatest Old World romance ever told upon the screen!

As the purple shadows fell they pleaded undying love.

A rugged little country — no bigger than a tovarish — tucked away in the mountains — but still a kingdom — with its Queen and its King — and its Old World Chivalry — cream-colored uniforms — couriers bending low — a Yankee girl — a Prince Charming kneeling before her —

Into a mythical empire of love — into a golden garden of chivalry — into a picturesque domain of brave knights and fair ladies — where Romance holds sway and drives men on to destiny.

The clash of swords — the intrigue of diplomats — the smiles of fair ladies — the love of bold knights — the charm of great princelings — the secret of the locket — all these merged into a romance of stunning beauty and stirring life amid the gorgeous settings of Old World courts and castles.

Every one attending at Opera House and Gem Monday will receive an elegant picture 8x10 free of Rudolph Valentine.

New York Letter

by Lucy Jeannie Price

New York. — We have long identified Conrad with stories of the sea. Eugene O'Neill came along with his play "Anna Christie" which depicted its devilish lash. To Thomas Burke we are indebted for the lore of the Limehouse District, which Griffith thought worthy for picturing in "Dream Street." But it remained for Edmund Goulding to combine these fascinating interests in his novel, aptly named "Fury." The book is written with a freshness and a certain naivete which does not in the least detract from his thesis of the fury of the sea and its effect on those who make it their life. Mr. Goulding must be a very nice person, for throughout he lapses into a certain kindness and sweetness which does not abate the vividness of his portrayal, but does convince the reader that he is better for knowing the author. The book would live if only for the whimsies of one of the characters, "Looney Luke," with excerpts of his poetry which salt the whole story. Of course there is an old sea captain, Dog Leyton, by name, who spells the fury of the tale, and his son, Roy, who sees the tenderness of the enigma in spite of his inherited fury. Together they make the lash and the spray; and a curious blend of girl, Min, in impressive fidelity, holds the fan dinterest as it fringes Mr. Goulding's sea. He knows it very well. One suspects that he loves it, but like the small boy, thinks he must not meddle about it.

Anyone who comes to New York way from Missouri and then telephones his wife every night—after midnight when the rates are low—ought to be encouraged. To allow such domesticity as that to come to grief would seem to justify the harsh things that people say about our city. Sidney Williams experienced the difficulties put in the way of husbandly devotion the other night. Mrs. Williams was visiting back

THE FURNITURE MAN

MAYSVILLE, KY

In Missouri and according to custom, her husband phoned her. The line was poor and he had to be a bit loud in his shoutings. As a consequence, he aroused the indignation of people in rooms near by, and was hailed into court for disturbing the peace.

—NY—

Money is attractive; there's no doubt about that, and consequently, is undoubtedly a good advertisement. But there is a savings bank on lower Broadway that won't try to influence depositors by the sight of real lace ever again. They put piles of bills in their front window, labeled "$100." The top of the pile was a good $1 bill, but the rest of the pile was merely slips of paper. Some enterprising person, anxious to take the bank's advice and begin accumulating immediately, didn't look close enough to see the paper slips. So he broke the grand plate glass window and took it all. The bank has put up a sign on its new pile which says, "This bill is marked counterfeit in red ink on the other side."

—NY—

Paul Claudel, the French poet-dramatist whose "Tiding Brought to Mary," is being produced by the Theater Guild, is a peculiar combination. His poetry is that of a solitary spirit, a mystic, but he is a statesman, too. He has served his country in consular positions all over the world; in 1919 was appointed Minister to Denmark and in 1921, French ambassador to Japan, his present post.

Samuel Stiglitz possesses the real Christmas spirit and it rules his whole life. He is fifty years old and only a peevish. But he entered the court the other day on charges to withdraw a charge of assault against a driver whose auto truck had struck him and made him a cripple. "Why do you want to withdraw the charge?" the court asked him. "Oh, I don't want anyone sent to jail," Stiglitz replied. Both of his hips were broken by the accident.

The first woman elected to a county office in Kansas was Mrs. Ellen Webster, who in 1872 was elected superintendent of public instruction in Harvey county.

WEAK KIDNEYS MAKE

WEAK BODIES

Kidney Diseases Cause Many Aches and Ills of Maysville People.

As one weak link weakens a chain, so many weak kidneys weaken the whole body and hasten the final breaking-down.

Overwork, strain, colds and other causes injure the kidneys, and generally when their activity is lessened, the whole body suffers. Aches and pains and languor and urinary ills frequently come, and there is an ever-increasing tendency towards dropsy, gravel or fatal Bright's disease. When the kidneys fail there is no real help for the sufferer except kidney help.

Doan's Kidney Pills act directly on the kidneys.

No need to take the statement of someone living far away as evidence. Here is a case right in this locality.

A. Sorries, gun and locksmith, Aberdeen, Ohio, says: "My experience with Doan's Kidney Pills leads me to recommend them strongly. My kidneys acted irregularly and the secretions contained sediment. I had backaches and when I stooped it was difficult to straighten again. Colds always settled on my back and kidneys. I used Doan's Kidney Pills and they put a stop to the trouble."

OVER FOUR YEARS LATER, Mr. Sorries said: "I am the same strong believer in Doan's Kidney Pills. I have had no trouble with my kidneys since recommending Doan's."
